Fully Vaccinated vs Up to Date With COVID-19 Vaccines

In the past two years so much new language has circulated regarding vaccines, boosters and other COVID-19 mitigation techniques. Two phrases regarding vaccines are very similar but there is a difference between them:

Fully Vaccinated - “Fully vaccinated” means that you have completed a primary series of a COVID-19 vaccine. You are two weeks out from the second dose in a two dose series (Pfizer or Moderna) or from receiving a one dose series (Janssen). CDC recommends everyone ages 5 and older get their primary series of COVID-19 vaccine to be fully vaccinated.

Up to Date With Vaccines: CDC recommends everyone ages 12 and older also receive a COVID-19 booster. You are “up to date” with your COVID-19 vaccines when you have received all doses in a primary series and one booster when eligible. Getting a second booster is not necessary to be considered up to date at this time. The recommendation may change depending on your age, health status, which vaccine you received and when you first got vaccinated.

For more on staying up to date with your COVID-19 vaccines, visit the CDC page.
